DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Haines in view of Wales. Haines shows a punch with a measuring member slidably connected to the punch. There is only one degree of freedom of motion of the measuring member however. Wales shows a measuring member (96, 97) with two degrees of freedom for measuring in two directions. Obviously one would add such a measuring device to the device of Haines so that the punch could be located in two directions. Note that Wales has indicia that are useful to set the exact position of the punch. The units used for the indicia would have been obvious absent a showing of criticality.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

In a telephone interview on Sept. 15, 2004 applicant elected the species of Figs 1-4. The election was made without traverse. All claims read on the elected species.
